

What we'll consider

You're applying for an exemption from the law under s 168D of the Land Transport Act 1998.

The things we have to consider are set out in s 168D. These include:

- Would granting this exemption maintain or improve land transport safety?
- Would it contribute to an effective, efficient and safe land transport system in the public interest?
- Does it support the response to an emergency or other event?
- Is there any other matter we consider relevant in the circumstances?

We'll also take into account your driving record, and any other related information.

- Having a clean driving record can show us whether you'll continue to follow the road rules and drive safely.
- Having traffic offences on your record, or not driving for long enough to establish a record, is relevant to whether we grant your application or not.

We may also look at other aspects of your land transport compliance.

Exemptions are not automatically granted. We'll consider all the factors above before deciding whether to approve or decline your application. We're not obliged to grant an exemption if we don't think it's appropriate to do so.

The fee is non-refundable - even if we decline your application. It covers the cost of processing your application.

What we need from you

Think about all the factors we've listed in the section above, and if you can, include them in your responses to our questions.

You'll need to show us that granting your exemption won't increase risk to any other road users. Give us specific examples of how you intend to reduce risk: simply promising that you'll follow the road rules doesn't show us this.

Make sure you fill in all the relevant fields for your application type: we won't accept applications if they're incomplete.

Don't apply

The law doesn't allow us to grant an exemption just on the basis of inconvenience or hardship. We won't generally grant an exemption if:

- you've bought a vehicle you're not yet licensed to drive
- you have other means of transport
- you can comply with the law by getting a full licence but choose not to.

It's unlikely that we'll grant an exemption if you:

- hold a learner car or motorcycle licence (class 1 or class 6)
- have held a restricted licence for 6 months or less.

How to pay

Before you make your application you'll need to pay the application fee of $100.

To do this, call us on 0800 822 422 to pay by credit or debit card.

We'll give you a reference number that you must write on page 3 of the application form.

How to apply

Once you've made the payment, you can then make your application.

The easiest way to apply is online at www.nzta.govt.nz/DL-exemption

If you can't apply online, you need to:

1. Print and complete this form.
2. Scan the form and your documents.
3. Email the form and documents to dlexemptions@nzta.govt.nz

Make sure you've completed all the fields in the relevant sections, and included all the documents we've asked for.

Checklist

We won't process your application if it's incomplete. If you don't supply all the information we need, your application may be delayed, returned or declined. Make sure you've provided:

- Your completed application form (please make sure you've signed and dated the declaration).
- All the documents that we require.
- A reference number to confirm you've paid the application fee of $100.

False or incomplete information

We may decline your application or revoke your exemption if:

- you provide false or misleading information, or
- you don't give us all the information relevant to your application.

It's also an offence to supply false or misleading information and may lead to court action. This could result in a conviction and/or paying a fine.

We'll closely examine any document you provide to make sure it's authentic, particularly overseas documents.

You must complete this form correctly or we won't be able to assess your application.

If you don't give us all the information we need, we'll return the application to you so you can provide the missing information.

The application fee is non-refundable, even if your application is declined.

¹A Certificate of particulars is an official document from your licensing authority which includes all details that would be contained on your original driver licence card.

If you're applying for one of the exemption types on this page, you must include clear scans of your documents.

If you're applying for an exemption to recognise overseas driving experience, you must provide:

- Your overseas driver licence.
- A *Certificate of particulars*¹ if your overseas licence doesn't have an issue date.
- An approved translation if your overseas driver licence or *Certificate of particulars*¹ isn't in English.

Note: if this exemption is granted, this doesn't guarantee the approval of any endorsements afterwards.

If you're applying for an exemption to convert to a New Zealand driver licence without the original overseas licence, you must provide:

- A *Certificate of particulars*¹ from the overseas driver licensing authority.
- An approved translation if your *Certificate of particulars*¹ isn't in English.

If you're applying for an exemption to present an approved course certificate (instead of passing a practical driving test) to convert overseas heavy driver licence classes to New Zealand driver licence classes 2, 3, 4 or 5, you must provide:

- The Driver licence and endorsement certificate issued to you by the Waka Kotahi-approved course provider.
- Your overseas driver licence.

If you're applying for an exemption to present an approved competency based training and assessment (CBTA) certificate (instead of passing a practical driving test) to convert an overseas motorcycle class to New Zealand driver licence class 6, you must provide:

- The Motorcycle competency certificate issued to you by the Waka Kotahi-approved course provider.
- Your overseas driver licence.

If you're applying for an exemption to convert an overseas special-type vehicle endorsement (eg forklift), or for recognition of an overseas driving instructor qualification, you must provide:

- Evidence of the overseas endorsement/qualification (eg course certificate or qualification certificate).
- Evidence of any overseas driving experience you've had (eg letter from your employer).

Now go to page 8 to complete the rest of the questions →

Application outcome

We'll let you know the outcome in writing within 10 working days of receiving your application.

If you don't agree with our decision you can appeal to the District Court.

Conditions or timeframes

Any exemption we grant can't be any broader than it needs to be. We may:

- impose conditions on any exemption, and/or
- grant the exemption for a specific period. This will be the minimum time you need to fully comply with the law. For example, if we grant you an exemption to carry passengers on a restricted licence, your exemption will expire shortly after you can apply for a full licence.

More information

We have a range of factsheets which give more information on a wide range of driver licensing topics. These are available on our website www.nzta.govt.nz/resources/factsheets.

Our forms and factsheets provide useful, common-sense advice and information in a concise format. They can't cover all aspects of a topic and shouldn't be used instead of authoritative legal documents or legal advice.

Privacy information

The particulars you provide will become part of the Driver Licence Register. Collection, dissemination and release of this information is authorised by the Land Transport Act 1998.

Waka Kotahi NZ Transport Agency may also use some of these particulars to provide you with information relating to driver licensing and driving. We may also disclose some of the particulars to our agents and contractors in relation to the above purposes.

Details supplied with your application may be used to make such enquiries as are deemed necessary to consider your exemption request.

Under the Electoral Act 1993, s 263B, the Electoral Enrolment Centre operates an authorised information matching programme with Waka Kotahi. The purpose of this programme is to assist in keeping the Electoral Roll up-to-date.

To keep the Driver Licence Register up-to-date Waka Kotahi also operates an authorised information matching programme with Births, Deaths and Marriages. Please refer to the Privacy section of our website for more information.

The Privacy Act 2020 provides rights of access to, and correction of, any readily retrievable personal information held about you. Should you wish to exercise these rights please contact Waka Kotahi, Private Bag 11777, Palmerston North 4442 or email info@nzta.govt.nz.

Email address

Giving us your email is optional. By giving us your email, you agree that Waka Kotahi may communicate with you by that email address. This includes application updates, asking for feedback, reminders and formal notices. For a full list of how we might use your email go to www.nzta.govt.nz/email-use

We recommend using an email address that's unique to you, so only you can see information we send you.
