Section 4 Traffic signs

4.1 Purposes of traffic signs

A traffic sign may be:

- (a) ‘regulatory’ (including speed limit and parking signs), that is, it instructs road users by requiring or prohibiting specified actions in using a road;
- (b) ‘warning’, that is, it informs road users of hazards or of other features requiring a safe response on or near a road;
- (c) ‘advisory’, that is, it provides road users with information or guidance (including information about destinations, routes, amenities, distances, street name signs and place names).

4.2 Provision of traffic signs

Regulatory signs

4.2(1) A road controlling authority must provide a regulatory sign to instruct road users of the speed at which they may travel where a speed limit changes, and at intervals within the speed limit area, as specified in section 9 of Land Transport Rule: Setting of Speed Limits 2017.

4.2(2) A road controlling authority must install regulatory signs in accordance with 4.2(3) to draw attention to a requirement, restriction or prohibition on road users when:

- (a) the road controlling authority has made the requirement, restriction or prohibition by bylaw (or other instrument) on a road under its control; or

- (b) this rule or any other enactment requires the installation of a regulatory sign to draw attention to the requirement, restriction or prohibition; or
 - (c) this rule or any other enactment does not require the installation of a regulatory sign, but the road controlling authority considers it desirable that a sign be installed.
- 4.2(2A) 4.2(2)(a) and (b) does not apply to a requirement, restriction or prohibition regarding the operation of a community street where the road controlling authority has imposed conditions requiring notification of the community street under clause 4.1(3)(b) of Land Transport Rule: Street Layouts 2023.
- 4.2(3) Unless specified elsewhere in this Rule, regulatory signs must be installed to instruct road users of a requirement, restriction or prohibition on traffic:
 - (a) at each point where the requirement, restriction or prohibition applies; or
 - (b) where the requirement, restriction or prohibition applies to a length of road:
 - (i) at the start; and
 - (ii) after each intersection along its length; and
 - (iii) at the end; and
 - (iv) at intervals along its length, as specified in this rule or other enactment; or
 - (c) where the requirement, restriction or prohibition applies to a zone restriction at:
 - (i) each entry point to the zone; and
 - (ii) intervals within the zone, as specified in this rule; and
 - (iii) each exit point from the zone.

Permanent warning signs

- 4.2(4) A road controlling authority must install a permanent warning sign at any place where it considers special care or reduced speed is appropriate, and, in particular, must consider its appropriateness near the entrance to a school, kindergarten, pre-school centre or hospital.

Temporary warning signs

- 4.2(5) A road controlling authority must install temporary warning signs if it considers there is, or is likely to arise, at any place on a road, a temporary risk of:
- (a) danger to the public or to road workers; or
 - (b) damage to the road.
- 4.2(6) For a temporary hazard, such as a disabled vehicle on the road, an accident, a slip, a washout or a broken transmission line, an appropriate temporary warning sign may be erected by:
- (a) emergency services personnel; or
 - (b) a worker involved in removing the temporary hazard, or in making the hazard area safe.
- 4.2(7) A temporary sign under 4.2(5) and 4.2(6) must be removed as soon as the need for it has ended.
- 4.2(8) Despite 4.2(7), the Agency or a member of the New Zealand Police may, at any time, direct that a temporary warning sign be removed or additional signs be installed.
- 4.2(9) Any person may erect a ‘warning’ triangle sign on a roadway to inform approaching road users of an accident or a broken-down vehicle.

Advisory signs

- 4.2(10) A road controlling authority must install and maintain signs, as it considers necessary or desirable, to inform road users of destinations, routes, street names, distances, the names of localities or other information of value to road users.

Clause 4.2(1): amended, on 1 June 2019, by clause 2.1 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2019.

Clause 4.2(3): amended, on 1 April 2011, by clause 2.3 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2010.

Clause 4.2(8): amended, on 1 August 2008, by Part 2 of Schedule 3 of the Land Transport Management Amendment Act 2008.

Clause 4.2(2A): inserted, on 21 August 2023, by clause 6.1(6) of Land Transport Rule: Street Layouts 2023.

4.3 Types of traffic sign

- 4.3(1) A traffic sign that displays appropriate regulatory, warning or advisory messages for road users may be either:
- (a) a ‘permanent’ sign; or

- (b) a 'temporary' sign installed for a temporary hazard on a road, or a temporary risk of danger to road users or of damage to the road.

4.3(2) A 'variable' traffic sign, which is capable of displaying a different message to meet traffic management needs at different times, may be either a permanent or a temporary sign.

4.4 General requirements for traffic signs

Description of traffic signs

- 4.4(1) Subject to 4.4(2), a traffic sign, and the details on the sign, must comply with the minimum dimensions specified in Schedule 1.
- 4.4(2) The dimensions of a traffic sign may be increased provided that the dimensions of each letter, numeral, symbol or other detail on the sign are kept in approximate proportion to the dimensions of the other details on the sign.
- 4.4(3) Except as provided in 4.4(4) and 4.4(5), a traffic sign may display only words or symbols that are allowed by this rule.
- 4.4(4) Despite 4.4(1), 4.4(2), and 4.4(3), the Agency may, by notice in the Gazette, authorise the installation and maintenance of a traffic sign that does not comply with the colour, shape, dimensions, words, numerals, symbols, number of elements, background, border, or legend specified in Schedule 1.
- 4.4(5) A traffic sign, other than a regulatory sign, may display one monogram or one logo:
 - (a) for a street name sign, to identify the road controlling authority or locality within a road controlling authority's area, or to mark the historical significance of the street name, provided that the monogram or logo does not detract from the legibility of the street name sign;
 - (b) for a sign other than one in (a), provided that:
 - (i) on a sign less than 1 m² in area, the monogram or logo is not larger than 30 cm²;
 - (ii) on a sign 1 m² or greater in area, the monogram or logo is not larger than 100 cm²;
 - (c) for a temporary warning sign, other than a supplementary temporary warning sign, initials or other identifying marks may be marked by means of a series of perforations provided that these do not affect the ability of the sign to perform safely and adequately for its intended use.

[Note: Temporary warning signs are within the series W1 to W7 in Schedule 1.]

- 4.4(6) A traffic sign may not display on the reverse side written material or a monogram, except:
- (a) another traffic sign as provided in 4.5(1); or
 - (b) a non-reflective sticker, label or other device no more than 100 cm², which may contain:
 - (i) details of the ownership of the sign; or
 - (ii) information that uniquely identifies the sign; or
 - (iii) details of manufacture, installation or maintenance;
 - (c) a sign complying with 4.4(5)(c).
- 4.4(7) If this rule requires a traffic sign or part of a traffic sign to be reflectorised, it must be:
- (a) reflectorised by the use of reflective material that is approved by the Agency by notice in the Gazette; or
 - (b) internally or externally illuminated so as to be visible when illuminated.
- 4.4(8) A traffic sign, or a letter, numeral, border or symbol displayed on a traffic sign, must be of a type and of the appropriate colour specified in Schedule 1.
- Installation of traffic signs*
- 4.4(9) A road controlling authority must install a traffic sign on the left-hand side of the road from the point of view of a person approaching the sign, except if a different position:
- (a) would be safer and more effective in the circumstances; or
 - (b) is specified in any enactment.
- 4.4(10) If a traffic sign has been installed on the left-hand side of the road, a sign conveying the same message may also be installed on the right-hand side of the road, on a traffic island or on a median.
- Support for traffic signs*
- 4.4(11) Written material (other than a supplementary notice relating to a passenger service) or a monogram must not be displayed on a pole on which a road controlling authority has installed a traffic sign.

- 4.4(12) The colour and form of a pole that is used to support a traffic sign specified in 6.3(4), 6.3(5), 8.2(9) and 9.4(3) may be used only for the purpose specified in those provisions.
- Vehicle-mounted signs*
- 4.4(13) A traffic sign must not be displayed on a vehicle unless:
- (a) allowed under 4.4(14) or 4.4(17) to 4.4(19), or under another enactment; or
 - (b) the display complies with Schedule 1.
- 4.4(14) A motor vehicle that is being used as a school bus must display on the outside of the vehicle a 'School Bus' sign, as specified in Schedule 1, at both the front and the rear.
- 4.4(15) A sign in 4.4(14) must be mounted:
- (a) at the rear, with its lower edge not less than 1.5 m from the ground in the centre-line, or to the right of the centre-line, of the school bus when it is facing forward;
 - (b) at the front, so as to be visible to road users approaching the vehicle from the front and on the opposite side of the roadway.

Section 5 Markings

5.1 Purposes of markings

A marking (other than roadway art installed in accordance with 5.6(1)) has one of the following functions:

- (a) ‘regulatory’, that is, it instructs road users by requiring or prohibiting specified actions in using a road;
- (b) ‘warning’, that is, it informs road users of permanent hazards on a roadway or gives advance notice of features on or near a road;
- (c) ‘advisory’, that is, it provides road users with information or guidance in the intended use of the road.

Clause 5.1: amended, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.2(1) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.2 Provision of markings

- 5.2(1) A road controlling authority must, except if the road surface makes this impracticable, provide markings if required to do so by this rule or any other enactment.

- 5.2(2) When providing markings for any of the purposes in 5.1 or when installing roadway art in accordance with 5.6(1), a road controlling authority must comply with this rule.
- 5.2(3) A road controlling authority may provide regulatory, warning, or advisory markings on a road under its control if necessary or desirable for the guidance of traffic or to draw attention to a requirement that controls traffic.

Clause 5.2(2): amended, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.3(1) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.4 General requirements for markings

Description of markings

- 5.4(1) A marking, whether or not required under this rule, must comply with the relevant specifications in Schedule 2.
- 5.4(1A) Despite 5.4(1) and 5.4(2), the Agency may, by notice in the Gazette, authorise the installation and maintenance of a marking that does not comply with the colour, shape, dimensions, letters, words, numerals, or symbols specified in Schedule 2.
- 5.4(2) Subject to 5.4(2A) and 5.4(3), a marking must comply with the minimum dimensions specified in Schedule 2.
- 5.4(2A) The dimensions of markings intended solely for pedestrians or cyclists may be decreased provided that the dimensions of each letter, numeral or symbol are decreased in approximately the same proportion.

- 5.4(3) Subject to 5.4(3A), the dimensions of a marking may be increased provided that, from the viewpoint of a driver approaching the mark, the lateral dimensions of each letter, numeral, symbol or other detail displayed on the marking are retained and all longitudinal dimensions are increased in the same proportion.
- 5.4(3A) The dimensions of the marks M3-1, M3-2 and M3-3, specified in Schedule 2, must not be increased.
- 5.4(4) If this rule requires a marking to be reflectorised, it must be:

 - (b) internally illuminated so as to be visible when illuminated.
- 5.4(5) A letter or numeral displayed by a marking must be of a type specified in Schedule 2.
- 5.4(6) A pavement marker that is applied or attached permanently to the roadway must be white or yellow, except if it is a marker that is:
- (a) blue and is installed on, or just to the left of, the centre-line of the roadway and is—
 - (i) a non-flashing pavement marker used only to mark the presence of a fire hydrant or other water source used for firefighting; or
 - (ii) a flashing, illuminated pavement marker used to indicate that the road may be slippery due to frost, ice, or snow; or
 - (b) red and is installed only on the left-hand side of the roadway to mark the edge of the safe, useable portion of the roadway; or
 - (c) green and is installed on, or just to the left of, the centre-line of the roadway and is used only to mark the presence of a culvert or other drain under the roadway.
- 5.4(7) A raised pavement marker that was installed before the commencement of this rule that does not comply with 5.4(6) must be removed by 30 June 2009.
- 5.4(8) A blue surface texture or colour may only be used for reserved parking areas that are restricted to use by disabled persons in accordance with 12.4(6).

5.5 Markings intended for advertising purposes or not connected with use of a road

A person must not install, on a roadway, a marking that is intended to be used for the purpose of advertising or other purpose not connected with the use of the road unless it is roadway art installed in accordance with 5.6(1).

Heading to clause 5.5: amended, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.5(1) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020

Clause 5.5: amended, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.5(2) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.6 Requirements for roadway art

5.6(1) Despite anything in 5.4, a road controlling authority may install any marking on a roadway (roadway art) if the roadway art:

- (a) is installed in a lower risk environment; and
- (b) does not resemble and is not similar to a marking described in this Rule; and
- (c) does not mislead road users about the meaning of any traffic control device; and
- (d) is not part of or visually integrated into a marking specified in Schedule 2.

5.6(2) In this Rule, lower risk environment means an area—

- (a) where the road controlling authority manages speeds, through the use of any combination of traffic control devices, roadside developments, roadway art and other changes in the road environment, with the aim to achieve an outcome where the operating speed of vehicles (except in emergency situations) is not more than 30km/h (whether or not the speed limit for the area is 30km/h); and

- (b) in relation to which it is reasonable for the road controlling authority to believe that outcome has been or will be achieved.

Example 1:

On a wide urban street with a 50km/h speed limit and that has a wide-angle intersection with another street, a road controlling authority has narrowed the roadway by installing planter boxes and removing car parks. It also paints an assortment of coloured circles on the roadway. The shapes do not resemble and are not similar to any markings described in this Rule, and are also not part of or visually integrated into any markings specified in Schedule 2.

Those measures will achieve an outcome where the operating speed of vehicles (except in emergency situations) is not more than 30km/h. The relevant area is a lower risk environment.

These painted circles are roadway art installed in accordance with 5.6(1).

Example 2:

A series of long rectangles are painted on the road, parallel to the kerb and perpendicular to oncoming vehicle traffic. These either resemble or are similar to markings for a pedestrian crossing, which are described in this Rule (see M1-1 in Schedule 2), so cannot be installed as roadway art under 5.6(1).

Example 3:

On a wide urban street that has a wide-angle intersection with another street, a road controlling authority has installed a sign advising to slow for pedestrians, with the aim of achieving an outcome where the operating speed of vehicles (except in emergency situations) is not more than 30km/h. However, it can be regularly observed that vehicles travel through the area at more than 30km/h. It is not reasonable to believe the outcome has been or will be achieved if nothing more is done. The relevant area is not a lower risk environment. Accordingly, roadway art cannot be installed in the area.

Clause 5.6: inserted, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.6 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.7 Powers of Agency over markings

- 5.7(1) The Agency may, by notice in writing, require a road controlling authority to remove any marking from a roadway if one or more of the following applies:
- (a) the marking is a traffic control device, or the road controlling authority or the Agency considers the marking is a traffic control device, and the Agency considers on reasonable grounds that the marking does not comply with Section 3, clause 5.3, or clause 5.4:
 - (b) the marking is roadway art for the purposes of 5.6(1), or the road controlling authority or the Agency considers the marking is roadway art for the purposes of 5.6(1), and the Agency considers on reasonable grounds that the marking does not comply with 5.3 or has not been installed in accordance with 5.6(1):
 - (c) the Agency considers on reasonable grounds that the marking has been installed in breach of 5.5.
- 5.7(2) A notice in 5.7(1) must:
- (a) specify the marking or markings to be removed; and
 - (b) include the grounds on which the Agency requires the marking to be removed; and
 - (c) include a deadline for removal, which must be no earlier than 5 working days after the date the notice is given.
- 5.7(3) A road controlling authority that is given a notice under 5.7(1) must remove the marking or markings stated in the notice before the deadline stated in the notice.
- 5.7(4) If after the deadline stated in the notice the marking or markings have not been fully removed, the Agency may:
- (a) remove the marking or markings; and
 - (b) install markings that are traffic control devices that comply with this Rule.
- 5.7(5) Without limiting the Agency's powers under this clause, the Agency can also exercise its powers under 3.2(3) or 13.8(1) in respect of a marking that is roadway art for the purposes of 5.6(1) as if the marking were a traffic control device for the purposes of 3.2(3) or 13.8(1).

Clause 5.7: inserted, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.6 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.8 Powers of Agency over lower risk environments

- 5.8(1) This clause applies to a marking that is roadway art for the purposes of 5.6(1), or that the road controlling authority or the Agency considers is roadway art for the purposes of 5.6(1) (the relevant marking).
- 5.8(2) If the Agency considers on reasonable grounds that the roadway on which the relevant marking has been installed is not a lower risk environment, the Agency may, by notice in writing, require a road controlling authority to install or remove traffic control devices or roadside developments or make other changes in the road environment (take action), with the aim of making the roadway a lower risk environment.
- 5.8(3) A notice in 5.8(2) must:
- (a) specify the action to be taken, including by specifying the outcome to be achieved from the action (for example, a roadway of a certain maximum width); and
 - (b) include the grounds on which the Agency requires that action to be taken; and
 - (c) include a deadline for that action to be taken, which must be no earlier than 5 working days after the date the notice is given.
- 5.8(4) A road controlling authority that is given a notice under 5.8(2) must take the action stated in the notice before the deadline stated in the notice.
- 5.8(5) If after the deadline stated in the notice the action has not been fully taken, the Agency may take the action or remaining action.
- 5.8(6) The Agency may issue a notice under this clause whether or not the Agency also issues a notice under 5.7(1) in respect of the relevant marking or exercise its powers under 3.2(3) or 13.8(1) in respect of the relevant marking.

Clause 5.8: inserted, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.6 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

5.9 Road controlling authority may appeal a notice from Agency

- 5.9(1) A road controlling authority that receives a notice under 5.7(1) or a notice under 5.8(2) may appeal against that decision under section 106 of the Act.

Clause 5.9: inserted, on 30 August 2020, by clause 2.6 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2020.

Section 6 Traffic signals

6.1 Types and purposes of traffic signals

- (b) any driveway approach to the area controlled where the road controlling authority considers this necessary for the safe or efficient operation of the area controlled.

6.2(1A) For each approach, defined in 6.2(1), to the area controlled by traffic signals, the road controlling authority must install:

- (a) if practicable, a limit line in accordance with 6.3(3) to define the place where vehicles are required to stop in advance of the area controlled; and
- (b) a traffic signal in a position that is visible to road users approaching the area controlled either:
 - (i) adjacent to, and as close as practicable to the end of, the limit line where marked; or

- (ii) where there is no limit line, at the point of entry to the area controlled; and
 - (c) except for temporary traffic signals and flashing red traffic signals, at least one supplementary steady traffic signal in a position that is visible to road users stopped:
 - (i) at the limit line where marked; or
 - (ii) where there is no limit line, at the point of entry to the area controlled.
- 6.2(1B) On multilane approaches to an area controlled by traffic signals, a road controlling authority may comply with 6.2(1A)(b) and (c) by installing traffic signals that apply to individual lanes or that apply to a combination of lanes forming part of that approach.

- (e) a yellow arrow signal followed by a red arrow signal in the same column, or if there is no red arrow signal in the same column, by a red disc signal or green disc signal in an adjacent column;

 - (a) both are green arrow signals; or
 - (b) one is a green disc signal and the other is a green arrow signal.
- 6.4(6) Traffic signals must operate so that vehicular traffic entering a controlled area in compliance with the signals from different approaches does not conflict, except for:

- (a) right-turning vehicular traffic against straight-through vehicular traffic from the opposite direction; or
 - (b) right-turning vehicular traffic against left-turning vehicular traffic from the opposite direction; or
 - (c) turning vehicular traffic against pedestrian traffic travelling in compliance with the traffic signal displays.
- 6.4(7) Paragraph 6.4(6)(c) does not apply if a green arrow signal is displayed and if vehicular traffic can proceed in the direction indicated by the arrow without having to give way to vehicular traffic and pedestrians that are allowed to proceed at the same time.
- 6.4(8) When vehicular traffic in different lanes approaching an area controlled by traffic signals is allowed to move in different directions at different times, multi-column traffic signals mounted side-by-side must be used to control the movement of vehicular traffic in the different lanes.
- 6.4(9) A steady yellow disc signal must be displayed for at least three seconds.
Displays for special classes of vehicle
- 6.4(10) If a bus lane traverses an area controlled by traffic signals, the road controlling authority:

 - (b) must include a red B signal in the display of traffic signals to indicate when a bus may not proceed from the bus lane when other vehicles are allowed to move in the same general direction; or
 - (c) may include a column of white, yellow and red B signals in the display of traffic signals.
- 6.4(11) If a light-rail vehicle track traverses an area controlled by traffic signals, the road controlling authority:

- (b) must include a red T signal in the display of traffic signals to indicate when a light-rail vehicle may not proceed along the light-rail vehicle track when other vehicles are allowed to move in the same general direction; or
- (c) may include a column of white, yellow and red T signals in the display of traffic signals.

6.4(12) If a cycle lane traverses an area controlled by traffic signals, the road controlling authority:

- (b) must include a red cycle signal in the display of traffic signals to indicate when a cycle is not allowed to proceed along the cycle lane when other vehicles are allowed to move in the same general direction; or
- (c) may include a green, yellow and red cycle signal in the display of traffic signals.

Roundabout metering signals

6.4(13) Roundabout metering signals, with displays complying with one of the displays in Schedule 3, may be used to control the traffic from one or more of the approaches to a roundabout, if:

- (a) excessive queuing and delays are experienced on one or more approaches to the roundabout; or
- (b) it is necessary to clear one of the approaches of a roundabout to allow a rail vehicle or an emergency vehicle to proceed safely; or
- (c) it is necessary in order to increase the efficiency or safety of public transport services.

6.4(14) The area controlled by a roundabout metering signal must be at least 30 m in advance of, and control the movement of traffic approaching, the roundabout.

- (b) the pedestrian crossing must be staggered so that pedestrians must cross the road in two stages by being required to turn and travel along the median to reach the second half of the crossing;
- (c) each stage of the pedestrian crossing must operate independently;
- (d) a traffic sign directed toward traffic approaching the roundabout must be mounted on the signal pole or poles indicating that the signals may operate by roundabout demand.

Ramp signals

- 6.4(16) When traffic entering a motorway is to be controlled to prevent the breakdown of traffic flow on the motorway, ramp signals and signs, in the form and the display in 6.4(17) or the display and signal sequence in 6.4(19) and (20), must be used for the periods for which they are required.
- 6.4(17) A ramp signal must comprise at least:
- (a) for each approach lane to the signals on the ramp a display mounted on a single column (display A) with two single-column, 3-aspect traffic signals (figure 3A of S4-3 in Schedule 3) separated by a traffic sign that displays the words ‘One Vehicle Per Green Each Lane’; and

- (a) visible to all traffic approaching the area controlled by the traffic signals; and
- (b) displayed for at least 10 seconds and be followed by a period of at least three seconds when all approaches to the area controlled by the traffic signals are displaying red signals.

- 6.5(3) For the avoidance of doubt, 6.5(2) does not apply to a signal controller installed before the commencement of this rule, provided it complies when upgraded or replaced.

- 6.5(4) A signal display outage occurs when:

- (a) the signals cease to operate because of:
 - (i) a power failure occurring; or
 - (ii) the signals being switched off temporarily with the approval of the road controlling authority; or
- (b) a traffic signal controller detects non-compliance with:
 - (i) subclause 6.4(4) and only one full operating signal display remains functioning for that approach; or
 - (ii) subclause 6.4(5), 6.4(6) or 6.4(7).

Flashing yellow displays for advance warning traffic signals

- 6.5(5) A road controlling authority may install advance-warning traffic signals when queues of traffic regularly occur or there are traffic signals in close proximity, and:
- (a) the existing road alignment does not provide sufficient safe stopping distance of the queue or traffic signals and cannot reasonably be altered to overcome the deficiency; and
 - (b) the road controlling authority has considered the use of advance-warning signs and considers that advance-warning traffic signals are more appropriate.
- 6.5(6) Advance-warning traffic signals must comprise two yellow disc signals that comply with the specifications in Schedule 3 and that flash alternately at approximately one Hertz with approximately equal on- and off-times.
- 6.5(7) Advance-warning traffic signals must flash only when:
- (a) a queue has been detected that requires that approaching drivers be informed; or
 - (b) the yellow or red signal is displayed on the traffic signals installed in close proximity.
- 6.5(8) A road controlling authority must install a warning sign and one of the accompanying supplementary warning signs in Schedule 1 in conjunction with advance-warning traffic signals.
- 6.5(9) When providing advance-warning traffic signals, a road controlling authority must install the signals:
- (a) on the left-hand side of the road (except if they would not be visible to approaching road users, then they may be installed on the right-hand side of the road); and
 - (b) so that the signals:
 - (i) face road users approaching the signals; and
 - (ii) are visible to approaching road users.

 - (b) two red disc signals that must flash alternately and, after the minimum time consistent with safe operation, a blank display.

6.6 Pedestrian displays

- 6.6(1) A road controlling authority may install pedestrian traffic signals only in conjunction with steady vehicle displays.
- 6.6(2) If providing pedestrian traffic signals, a road controlling authority must install the signals in a position on a roadway under its control so that the signals clearly indicate to pedestrians when they may enter the roadway.
- 6.6(3) Pedestrian traffic signals must comprise the following:
- (a) a green walking human figure signal; and

- 6.6(3B) A countdown pedestrian signal, described in 6.6(3A), must only be displayed at the same time as the flashing red standing human figure display described in 6.6(4).
- 6.6(4) Except as provided in 6.6(5), pedestrian traffic signals must operate in the following sequence:
- (a) a steady green walking human figure symbol to indicate the period during which a pedestrian is allowed to enter a roadway followed by a flashing red standing human figure symbol to indicate the period during which a pedestrian is expected to finish crossing a roadway;
 - (b) either the display at (a) or a steady red standing human figure, displayed for at least two seconds, to indicate when a pedestrian must not enter a roadway followed by:
 - (i) the display at (a); or
 - (ii) a blank display followed by:
 - (A) the display at (a); or
 - (B) a steady red standing human symbol followed by the display at (a).

- (a) at least one lane-usage arrow marked within the lane that complies with the relevant specifications in Schedule 2; or
- (b) at least one sign provided above the lane that complies with the relevant requirements in Schedule 1.

7.13 Variable lane control signs

7.13(1) The use of a lane may be controlled by means of variable lane control signs that are installed above the lane and that display:

- (a) a red diagonal cross, indicating that the lane is not available to road users that are travelling in the direction facing the sign; or
- (b) a green downward-facing arrow, indicating that the lane may be used by road users that are travelling in the direction facing the sign; or
- (c) a yellow diagonal arrow facing to the bottom left or right corner of the sign, indicating that road users must, as soon as practicable, move to the adjacent lane to the left or right; or
- (d) if 7.13(7) applies, a blank display indicating to road users that the lane is available for use.

7.13(2) The symbols in 7.13(1) must comply with the relevant requirements in Schedule 1.

7.13(3) If a lane has road users travelling in opposite directions at different times, only the following combinations of symbols may be displayed:

- (a) a green downward-facing arrow displayed for one direction with a red diagonal cross displayed for the opposite direction;
- (b) a yellow diagonal arrow displayed for one direction with a red diagonal cross displayed for the opposite direction;
- (c) a red diagonal cross displayed in both directions.

- 7.13(4) If the use of a lane is changed so as to reverse the direction in which road users must travel, the symbols displayed must have the following sequence:
- (a) a green downward-facing arrow displayed for one direction with a red diagonal cross displayed for the opposite direction, followed by either:
 - (i) a diagonal yellow arrow displayed for one direction with a red diagonal cross displayed for the opposite direction followed by a red diagonal cross displayed for both directions; or
 - (ii) a red diagonal cross displayed in both directions;
 - (b) a red diagonal cross displayed for one direction with a green downward-facing arrow displayed for the opposite direction, in the reverse order from that specified in (a).
- 7.13(5) A red diagonal cross specified in 7.13(4)(a)(i) or (ii) that is displayed concurrently for both directions must operate for a period that allows safe clearance of traffic from the lane.
- 7.13(6) If the use of a lane is changed to exclude road users travelling in one direction for a period, after which the lane reopens for road users travelling in the same direction, the symbols displayed must comply with the sequence in 7.13(4)(a)(i) or (ii), followed by a green downward-facing arrow displayed for the one direction with a red diagonal cross displayed for the opposite direction.
- 7.13(7) If lanes used for road users that are travelling in opposite directions are separated by physical barriers:
- (a) the signs above each lane may be a green downward-facing arrow, a yellow diagonal arrow, a diagonal red cross or a blank display facing road users travelling in that lane; and
 - (b) symbols do not have to be displayed for road users travelling in the opposite direction.
- 7.13(8) If 7.13(7) applies, the symbols displayed must comply with either of the following sequences:
- (a) a green downward-facing arrow or a blank display, followed by a diagonal yellow arrow, followed by either:
 - (i) a diagonal red cross followed by a green downward-facing arrow; or
 - (ii) a green downward-facing arrow; or

- (b) a blank display followed by a diagonal yellow arrow, followed by either:
 - (i) a red diagonal cross, followed by a blank display; or
 - (ii) a blank display.

Section 8 Pedestrian crossings, school crossing points, school patrols and other pedestrian facilities

8.1 Provision of traffic control devices for pedestrians

8.1(1) A road controlling authority must use one or more of the following means of controlling traffic when requiring drivers to stop their vehicle while pedestrians cross a roadway:

- (a) providing a pedestrian crossing;
- (b) authorising a school patrol, and:
 - (i) specifying the pedestrian crossing at which it may operate; or
 - (ii) providing a school crossing point at which the school patrol operates;
- (c) providing pedestrian traffic signals.

8.1(2) A road controlling authority may use one or more of the following means of assisting pedestrians to cross a roadway but which, unless installed in conjunction with one of the devices described in 8.1(1), does not require a driver to stop their vehicle while a pedestrian crosses the roadway:

- (a) school wardens;
- (b) devices, including:
 - (i) signs;
 - (ii) markings, including flush medians;
 - (iii) surface texture or raised platforms;
 - (iv) kerb extensions or traffic islands.

8.2(1) A road controlling authority may, except for areas controlled by traffic signals, mark a pedestrian crossing on a road for which a speed limit of 50 km/h or less is set.

8.2(2) A road controlling authority may mark a pedestrian crossing on a road for which a speed limit of more than 50 km/h is set if it has obtained the approval of the Agency and complies with any conditions specified in the approval.

- 8.2(3) A pedestrian crossing must be marked in reflectorised white and as specified in Schedule 2.
- 8.2(3A) If white does not contrast with the colour of the adjacent roadway, the roadway must be resurfaced or marked to provide a contrast to the white lines.
- 8.2(4) A pedestrian crossing must be marked in accordance with 8.2(3), and if applicable with 8.2(3A), by 30 June 2007.
- 8.2(5) A pedestrian crossing must not, by 30 June 2006, exceed 15 m from one side of the roadway to the other side unless it is:
- (a) interrupted by one or more traffic islands to form two or more pedestrian crossings; or
 - (b) replaced by traffic signals.
- 8.2(6) Markings for a pedestrian crossing must be placed, as far as practicable, either at right angles to the middle line of the roadway or so as to provide the most convenient route for pedestrians.
- 8.2(7) A pedestrian crossing must be placed so that:
- (a) it is visible to a driver approaching the crossing from any direction; and
 - (b) the driver's view of the entire length of the pedestrian crossing is unobstructed by any permanent growth, construction or physical feature.

Lighting pedestrian crossings

- 8.2(8) A pedestrian crossing, other than a pedestrian crossing that in the opinion of the road controlling authority will not generally be used at night, must be kept illuminated when street lights are operating so that the crossing markings and a pedestrian on the crossing are visible.

Poles, markings and other indicators of pedestrian crossings

- 8.2(9) A road controlling authority must install, within 2 m from each end of a pedestrian crossing and on a traffic island that separates two pedestrian crossings, a pole that is:
- (a) 75 mm or more in width and 2 m or more in height; and
 - (b) marked with alternate parallel bands of black and white, which may be reflectorised, each of which is approximately 300 mm wide.

- 8.2(10) A road controlling authority must place on every pole in 8.2(9) either:
- (a) an internally illuminated amber globe (that may flash at between 40 to 60 flashes each minute) that is 300 mm or more in diameter; or
 - (b) a fluorescent, reflectorised orange sign in the form of a disk that is 400 mm or more in diameter.
- 8.2(11) To inform approaching traffic of the presence of a pedestrian crossing, a road controlling authority, on each approach to the pedestrian crossing:
- (a) must place a pedestrian crossing warning sign before the pedestrian crossing; and
 - (b) must, if practicable, mark a limit line that consists of a white line that is not less than 300 mm wide and not less than 5 m from the pedestrian crossing; and
 - (c) may mark a pedestrian crossing warning marking in the form of a diamond on the road surface.
- 8.2(12) To inform approaching traffic of the presence of a pedestrian waiting to cross at a pedestrian crossing, a road controlling authority may install and maintain an on-roadway flashing yellow light system that is:
- (a) installed as described in diagram M1-4 of Schedule 2; and
 - (b) illuminated only when a pedestrian waiting to cross is detected and remains illuminated only for a period sufficient to permit the pedestrian to cross the pedestrian crossing.

Section 9 Level crossings

9.1 Interpretation

In this section, ‘public road’ has the same meaning as the definition of ‘road’ in section 315 of the Local Government Act 1974.

9.2 Traffic control devices at level crossings

- 9.2(1) To inform road users of a level crossing and to promote safe responses from road users approaching and crossing the level crossing, a road controlling authority:
- (a) must install warning signs on a public road in advance of the level crossing; and
 - (b) may install warning signs on any other road in advance of a level crossing; and
 - (c) may provide other traffic control devices in advance of the level crossing.

- 9.2(2) A rail access provider, after consultation with the road controlling authority, may install warning signs and other appropriate traffic control devices at a level crossing to promote safe responses from road users at the level crossing.

9.3 Marking level crossings

- 9.3(1) Except if the road surface makes this impracticable, a road controlling authority must mark on a public road, and may mark on any other road, on each lane approaching a level crossing, the word 'RAIL' and the capital letter 'X' when:

- (a) the road approaching the level crossing has a speed limit of 70 km/h or more; or
- (b) traffic approaches the level crossing in more than one lane.

- 9.3(2) The road markings in 9.3(1) must be reflectorised white.

- 9.3(3) On the approaches to a level crossing to which neither 9.3(1)(a) nor 9.3(1)(b) applies, the road controlling authority may, if it considers that additional indication to road users is desirable, place on the road surface the markings in 9.3(1) in accordance with 9.3(2).

- 9.3(4) A rail access provider may mark the road surface of a level crossing with cross-hatching to indicate the area that a road user must not enter when the road user's intended passage through that area is blocked by traffic.

- 9.3(5) An area in 9.3(4) must be marked using yellow reflectorised material and comply with Schedule 2.

9.4 Traffic signs, traffic signals and limit lines at level crossings

- 9.4(1) A rail access provider may provide, at a level crossing:

- (a) a give-way sign, stop sign, barrier arms or flashing traffic signals; and
- (b) a crossbuck sign; and
- (c) when there is more than one railway track, a '(number of)' tracks sign.

- 9.4(2) If one of the traffic control devices in 9.4(1)(a) is installed, a rail access provider must, except if the road surface makes this impracticable, mark a limit line at least 300 mm wide at a level crossing, which:

- (a) must be reflectorised yellow, if the level crossing is controlled by a stop sign; or

- (b) must be reflectorised white, if the level crossing is controlled by a give-way sign or by a flashing traffic signal.
- 9.4(3) A rail access provider may install, at a level crossing, poles that have reflectorised red and white alternate bands that are at least 225 mm wide.
- 9.4(4) If a level crossing is controlled by a stop sign, the road controlling authority must mark, not more than 10 m before the limit line, the word 'stop' in capital letters at least 2 m high, unless the road surface makes this impracticable.
- 9.4(5) If a level crossing is controlled by a give-way sign, the road controlling authority must, unless the road surface makes this impracticable, mark, not more than 20 m before the limit line, a triangular give-way symbol that complies with Schedule 2.
- 9.4(6) Instead of a triangular symbol in 9.4(5), a roadway that, before the commencement of this rule, was marked by the word 'way' preceded by the word 'give', in capital letters at least 2 m high, may continue to be marked in that way until the words are either permanently removed or overlaid, after which the triangular give-way symbol must be marked.
- 9.4(7) If a level crossing is controlled by a stop sign or give-way sign, a rail access provider may install the following combination of signs on the same pole:
 - (a) a give-way or stop sign; and
 - (b) a crossbuck sign; and
 - (c) if appropriate, a 'Look For Trains' sign or a '(number of)' tracks sign, or both.
- 9.4(8) If a level crossing is controlled by traffic signals, a rail access provider may install the following signs on the poles supporting the traffic signals:
 - (a) a crossbuck sign; and
 - (b) if appropriate, a 'Stop On Red' sign or a '(number of)' tracks sign, or both.
- 9.4(9) If a level crossing is controlled by traffic signals, a rail access provider may install barrier arms on the poles supporting the traffic signals, which must:
 - (a) be lowered over the approach to the level crossing when movement by road traffic is prohibited; and

- (b) consist of reflectorised red and white alternate bands that comply with Schedule 1.

Clause 9.4(3): amended, on 1 April 2011, by clause 2.13(1) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2010.

Clause 9.4(9): amended, on 1 April 2011, by clause 2.13(2) of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2010.

9.5 Exception in relation to requirements for vehicles to stop at specified level crossings

9.5(1) A road controlling authority may, in compliance with 9.5 of the Land Transport (Road User) Rule 2004, install an ‘Exempt’ sign as a supplementary sign to each ‘Level Crossing’ (symbolic train) warning sign installed in advance of the level crossing, if satisfied that:

- (a) rail vehicles are piloted across the level crossing at a speed of less than 15 km/h; and
- (b) the level crossing does not have stop signs installed, and the visibility in either direction along the railway line from a point 37 m in advance of the limit line is 33 m or more; and
- (c) the road is used by scheduled passenger service vehicles or is on a school bus route; and
- (d) the rail access provider has approved the proposed exception.

9.5(2) If any of the conditions in 9.5(1)(a) to (d) does not apply, but the road controlling authority considers that an ‘Exempt’ sign is justified, the road controlling authority must obtain the approval of the Agency for its installation.

Clause 9.5(2): amended, on 1 August 2008, by Part 2 of Schedule 3 of the Land Transport Management Amendment Act 2008.

Section 10 Intersections

10.1 Intersections to be controlled

An intersection that has four or more approaching roadways must be controlled by:

- (a) stop or give-way signs; or
- (b) a roundabout; or
- (c) traffic signals.

10.2 Intersections controlled by stop signs

If an intersection is controlled by a stop sign, the sign must be installed in accordance with section 4 and, unless the road surface makes this impracticable, the following must be marked on the roadway:

- (a) a limit line that consists of a yellow line that is not less than 300 mm wide; and
- (b) not more than 10 m before the limit line, the word 'stop' in white capital letters at least 2 m high.

10.3 Intersections controlled by give-way signs

10.3(1) If an intersection is controlled by a give-way sign, the sign must be installed in accordance with section 4 and, unless the road surface makes this impracticable, the following must be marked on the roadway:

- (a) a limit line that consists of a white line that is not less than 300 mm wide; and
- (b) not more than 20 m before the limit line, a triangular give-way symbol that complies with Schedule 2.

10.3(2) Instead of a triangular give-way symbol in 10.3(1)(b), a roadway that, before the commencement of this rule, was marked by the word 'way' preceded by the word 'give', in white capital letters at least 2 m high, may continue to be marked in that way until the words are either permanently removed or overlaid, after which the triangular give-way symbol must be marked.

10.4 Intersections controlled by roundabouts

10.4(1) Subject to 10.4(2), if an intersection has a roundabout installed, each entry to the roundabout must have a limit line that consists of a white line that is not less than 300 mm wide and must be controlled by either:

- (a) both:
 - (i) a 'give-way roundabout' sign that complies with Schedule 1; and
 - (ii) a triangular give-way symbol that complies with Schedule 2, marked on the roadway not more than 20 m before the limit line; or
- (b) roundabout metering signals that comply with section 6; and

- (i) a ‘give-way roundabout’ sign that complies with Schedule 1, and that has been mounted on a reflectorised, fluorescent yellow-green backing board that provides a border of at least 150 mm; and
 - (ii) a triangular give-way symbol that complies with Schedule 2, marked on the roadway not more than 20 m before the limit line; or
- (c) traffic signals.

10.4(2) If a single-lane roundabout and its approaches have safe and appropriate engineering measures installed to slow vehicles, and the measured mean operating speeds on the approaches and through the roundabout are 30 km/h or less, the roundabout may operate without the markings, signs or signals described in 10.4(1).

10.4(3) Instead of a triangular give-way symbol in 10.4(1)(a)(ii), a roadway that, before the commencement of this Rule, was marked by the word “way” preceded by the word “give”, in white capital letters at least 2 m high, may continue to be marked in that way until the words are permanently removed, after which the triangular give-way symbol must be marked.

10.4(4) If more than one lane for motor vehicles enters a roundabout from any approach, a road controlling authority must mark arrows on each approach lane to direct drivers into the correct departure lanes.

10.4(5) If a section of the roadway around a roundabout, or an exit from that section of roadway, has more than one lane for motor vehicles, a road controlling authority must mark lane lines to direct the flow of traffic.

Clause 10.4: replaced, on 1 April 2011, by clause 2.14 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2010.

10.5 Intersections controlled by traffic signals

10.5(1) A road controlling authority must ensure that the form, dimensions, symbols displayed, operation and performance of traffic signals installed at an intersection comply with section 6.

10.5(2) A road controlling authority may install one or more of the following traffic signs on a pole supporting a traffic signal at an intersection:

- (a) a ‘Keep Left’ sign;

- (b) a 'Turning Traffic Give-Way To Pedestrians' sign;
- (c) a 'Turn Left At Any Time With Care' sign;
- (d) a sign prohibiting, absolutely or conditionally, pedestrians, vehicles or classes of vehicle from moving in a specific direction;
- (e) a sign requiring, absolutely or conditionally, pedestrians, vehicles or classes of vehicle to move in a specific direction;
- (f) a sign or notice directed solely towards pedestrians and not generally visible to approaching vehicles, warning or advising pedestrians on the use of the traffic signals or of the controlled area;
- (g) a street name sign.

10.6 'Keep Clear' zone at intersections

10.6(1) A road controlling authority may mark the road surface of an intersection, or a place used as a vehicle entrance or exit, to indicate the area that a road user must not enter when the road user's intended passage through that area is blocked by traffic.

10.6(2) An area in 10.6(1) must be marked, in compliance with Schedule 2, by means of either:

- (a) yellow reflectorised material in the form of diagonal cross-hatched markings; or
- (b) the words 'keep clear' marked in yellow between lines that define the area.

Clause 10.6(2): amended, on 1 May 2021, by clause 2.2 of Land Transport Rule: Traffic Control Devices Amendment 2021.

Section 11 Traffic control devices for special classes of vehicle and road user

11.1 Provision of signs and markings

A road controlling authority that is providing a special route or setting aside a specific area of roadway for a class or classes of road user that is intended to impose restrictions on other road users must provide signs and markings as specified in 11.2, 11.3 or 11.4.

- (a) where the parking area is intended for parking parallel to the edge of the roadway:
 - (i) a continuous yellow line at right angles to the kerb or roadway edge at each end of the area of the roadway; and
 - (ii) a broken or continuous yellow line parallel to the kerb or roadway edge, not less than 2 m and not more than 3 m from the kerb or roadway edge; or
 - (b) where the parking area is intended for parking at an angle, a continuous yellow line on the left and right side of each parking space within the loading zone.

- (a) the nature of the area; and
 - (b) the nature of the parking zone control; and

 - (b) where the zone ceases and no other parking zone control in a parking zone applies with the words 'Zone Ends'; and
 - (c) within the zone:
 - (i) at intervals sufficient to notify road users, but not more than 200 m apart unless the zone is interrupted for more than 200 m by an area subject to a different restriction; and
 - (ii) after an area where a different restriction applies.

- 12.5(4) A road controlling authority does not have to provide signs to indicate a restriction on parking, or the extent of the restriction, if parking is controlled by parking machines that are located at, or immediately adjacent to, each vehicle parking space.
- 12.5(5) Where a parking machine controls a parking space or spaces, the fees, time limits and any other restrictions, that apply on that day to the parking space or spaces, must be displayed on or next to the parking machine.

Parking sign - components

Every parking sign is comprised of up to four components defining the restriction by:

Component 1	type of restriction
Component 2	class of vehicle affected or type of parking
Component 3	period of application
Component 4	area of road affected

Sign colours

- (a) Signs where a no stopping symbol (R6-1A) or no parking symbol (R6-1B) is used have a white (R) background with a red (R) border and:
 - (i) the legend may be red (R) or black; and
 - (ii) any symbol (R6-2S) used is red (R).
- (b) Signs where a 'P' (R6-1C) or 'P$' (R6-1D) is used have a blue (may be reflectorised) background with any R6-2S symbol used, legend and border white (may be reflectorised).

Sign format

A parking sign may be in one of the following formats.

All parking signs must include one of the R6-1 symbols in Component 1 and may include, as appropriate, information detailed in R6-2, R6-3 or R6-4 in components 2, 3 or 4 respectively. Where one or more of components 2, 3 or 4 are not included, the vertical height of the sign may be reduced, however, the width must be retained.

For 'Zone Begins', 'Zone Ends' and some 'Clearway' signs the width of the vertical sign must be at least 600 mm. For all other parking signs the vertical signs must be at least 300 mm wide and the horizontal signs at least 600 mm wide.

Sign plate

A sign plate is a single, flat substrate upon which one or more signs may be affixed.

Sign panel

A sign panel may be comprised of 1, 2, 3 or 4 parking signs or may be comprised of a special vehicle lane sign that is required by clause 11.2(1)(b) or 11.2(2)(a) and no more than three parking signs in order to comply with 12.5(6). Each sign may be on a separate sign plate or combined on a sign plate with one or more of the other signs. One or more sign plates may comprise the panel. No more than one panel may be installed on the same pole or at the same location on the same building, wall or fence.
